

---

SEVEN TRY ACTION AS EAST MEETS WEST

Tuesday, 06 January 2009

More than 19,000 fans watched the derby matches between Edinburgh and Glasgow during the festive period.

Record home Magners League crowds were attracted to Murrayfield and Firhill for the matches in the David Lloyd 1872 Cup and now you can see highlights from both games on this website.

Remember tickets are now on sale (call 0131 346 5180) for the next adrenaline-charged classic at the home of Scottish Rugby when former Magners League champions Ulster, steered by ex-Scotland coach Matt Williams, visit EH12 on Friday night (9 January, kick off 7.45pm). Book your place and become part of a team an inspirational capital can be proud of.

More than 19,000 fans watched the derby matches between Edinburgh Rugby Club and Glasgow Warriors during the festive period.

Record home Magners League crowds were attracted to Murrayfield and Firhill for the matches in the David Lloyd 1872 Cup and now you can see highlights from both games.

The first match, played at Murrayfield, on Boxing Day, saw Edinburgh post a thumping 39-6 win; a week later at Firhill, the Warriors held sway with a 25-20 margin in their favour. The aggregate over both legs thus resulted in Edinburgh winning the David Lloyd 1872 Cup for the first time.

{flv}edinburghvglasgow{/flv}

Click here to watch the highlights of the return leg on www.glasgowwarriors.org